ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADES

BY LARISSA FORESE NIGHT AND DAY

The Irish spirit is alive and well this March with plenty of parades spanning Monmouth and Ocean counties.

A tradition marches on...

BELMAR/LAKE COMO

The tradition of the Belmar/Lake Como St. Patrick's Day Parade continues Sunday, March 5, at 12:30 p.m.

Grand Marshal and Manasquan Mayor Edward Donovan will be making the march down Main Street with his wife, who was selected as the 2015 Deputy Grand Marshal.

Miriam Sheridan, this year's deputy grand marshal, will be walking with her husband, who was also selected as the 2014 Grand Marshal.

Additional trains have been added to the NJ Transit schedule for the event.

For more information, visit belmarparade.com.

OCEAN COUNTY

Grand Marshal Timothy Ryan will lead the way down the Boulevard for the Ocean County St. Patrick's Day Parade Saturday, March 11, at noon.

The parade may include familiar faces from the Trenton St. Patrick's Day Parade, which has been cancelled after 31 years. For more information, visit ocstpatricksdaysparade.com.

FREEHOLD

The Freehold Borough Arts Council will host the sixth annual St. Patrick's Day Parade Sunday, March 12, at noon.

The parade will begin at the Freehold Borough Municipal Building, on West Main Street, and continue to the Hall of Records, on East Main Street.

There will also be an after-party for all ages at the Elks Lodge, featuring the Pat Roddy Band and Irish food for purchase. The party will include a 50/50 raffle and an Irish Soda Bread contest.

For more information, visit downtownfreehold.com.

ASBURY PARK

The Fourth Annual Asbury Park St. Patrick's Day Parade will step off Sunday, March 12, at 1 p.m. The march will begin at 5th and Ocean avenues, and continue down Main Street.

The parade will be led by the Stone Pony's own Caroline O'Toole, who will take on the duties of grand marshal.

For more information, visit asburyparkstpatricksdaysparade.com.

RUMSON

The Rumson St. Patrick's Day Parade, in its fifth year, will be led by Grand Marshal Louis [Lee] Carr kicking off Sunday, March 12, at 1 p.m.

The parade will also feature eight bagpipe bands, floats, marching bands from area high schools, Irish step dancers, veterans groups and more.

For more information, visit rumsonstpatricksdaysparade.org.

and Honorary Grand Marshal Jay Cosgrove.

Free giveaways from floats are expected, along with post-parade parties in many Highlands restaurants.

For more information, visit highlandsnj.com.

KEANSBURG

The Keansburg St. Patrick's Day Parade rounds out the month of parades on Sunday, March 26, starting at 1:30 p.m. The route will begin at the Keansburg Beach on Beachway Avenue and make its way to Anthony's Pizza and Keelans Bar.

KEYPORT

The Keyport St. Patrick's Day Parade will take place Saturday, March 25, at 1 p.m. Beginning at St. Joseph Church on Maple Street, the parade will follow the same route as last year. For more information, visit the parade Facebook page: Keyport St. Patrick's Day Parade.

HIGHLANDS

The annual Highlands St. Patrick's Day Parade keeps the Irish spirit alive even after St. Patrick's Day.

The parade is set for Saturday, March 18, beginning at 2 p.m., at Huddy Park.

Close to 100 marching units, including: bagpipers, marching bands, Irish dancers, floats and more, will be a part of the event.

The parade will be led by Grand Marshal Ken Braswell

NIGHT AND DAY

Jersey Shore's "premier party band," Run For Cover, is a compilation of musicians from all over New Jersey playing the hottest hits.

BUILDING THE BAND

Tony Nugent, drums and vocals, and John Rumplach, vocals, started out playing in Goodfellas, a Jersey Shore-based cover band.

When Goodfellas disbanded, Nugent and Rumplach decided to create a band of their own.

Scott Jackson, bass and vocals, was a childhood friend of Rumplach; Steve Zschiegner, guitar and vocals, knows Nugent from Wall; and Dan O'Leary, keyboards and vocals, is a friend of Jackson.

And with that, Run for Cover was formed.

RUN FOR COVER SHOW

According to Nugent, throughout each show the band plays off the energy of lead vocalist Rumplach.

"We have the best vocalist around," added Nugent. "He gets everyone going."

Which is the foundation of a Run for Cover show.

"We have a diverse audience, so we play to that," said Nugent.

"We try to break the show up into three sets," added Rumplach. "The first set is mellow, the second is a little more hard rock and the third brings home the crowd."

Rumplach also mentioned the third set is for the party crowd that isn't ready to go home just yet.

"When that last crowd comes in, they're still looking to have a good time, and it's our job to provide that," added Rumplach.

The genres span from Top 40 Hits, to Classic Rock and Country.

"Our motto is: 'We play everything from the Beatles to Bruno Mars,'" said Nugent. "We want everyone up, dancing and singing along."

Aiming to reclaim the traction Goodfellas had, Run for Cover is making its mark and playing all over Monmouth and Ocean counties.

"We're getting back on the New Jersey bar scene," said Nugent.

UPCOMING SCHEDULE

You can catch a Run For Cover show in some of the most popular bars in Monmouth and Ocean counties.

On March 4, the band will be playing to members and guests of the Elks Club in Brick; and March 31, along with April 8, at Rella's in Brielle.

Run For Cover will also be featured during the St. Patrick's Day Party at the Broadway Bar, in Point Pleasant.

For more updates and shows, follow the band on Facebook and Twitter, along with the website.

St. Stephen's Green Publick House, Spring Lake, features Clancy's Red Reuben with grilled pastrami, red cabbage, melted cheddar cheese & Russian dressing on pumpernickel bread, a sister sandwich to the Tipperary Reuben featuring grilled corned beef.

St. Stephen's Green Publick House in Spring Lake, also features The Irish Dip, warm roast beef & Swiss cheese served on a baguette with au jus.

Irish Rail, Manasquan, combines bar food and Irish fare perfectly. The Fish and Chips consists of cod filets, homemade chips, lemon and tartar sauce.

The Original Mulligan's Restaurant and Grill, in Farmingdale, always has Guinness on tap to pair with the Taste O' Ireland menu.

Harpoon Willy's, Wall/Manasquan, Irish coffee features freshly brewed coffee and Jameson whiskey topped with whipped cream.

Tom Bailey's, Spring Lake, and Tom Bailey's West, Sea Girt, both serve a corned beef and cabbage dinner along with Irish soda bread. The dinner feeds four and includes a fully cooked corned beef, cabbage and potatoes.

Kelly's Tavern, in Neptune, serves up a reuben for everyone. The Mini-Reuben on rye bread is piled with corned beef, Russian dressing, kraut & melted Swiss. You can also get this signature sandwich in a large version. Kelly's also serves up The Blarney, featuring roast beef, and The Sligo, with sliced turkey. Try all three with the Kelly's Sampler.

Inside Our House

BY LARISSA FORESE NIGHT AND DAY

Our House, in Farmingdale, holds a lot of history within its walls, and a couple of ghosts too.

RICH HISTORY

The restaurant, pub and banquet hall has been standing since 1747, before the Revolution, and operated for years under the name Mariner's Tavern.

The restaurant was a well known meeting place for town meetings, dances, weddings and even played a role as the watering hole of the "Fagen Gang," according to the website and bar manager, AJ Chaykoski.

"There's a lot of history in this place," said Chaykoski.

Even the infamous "Hanging Tree" was located on the Our House property.

"If someone was prosecuted, they were sentenced to the 'Hanging Tree' until the 1930's, when it was outlawed," explained Chaykoski.

LUCY'S PUB

The pub at Our House, has been open for about five months and is home to resident ghost Lucy.

Lucy, who was an owner back in the 40s, according to Chaykoski, is the Pub's namesake.

"Lucy died in the room upstairs," said Chaykoski. "We've had a couple of [psychic] mediums here, and they've said she's the only ghost here."

Chaykoski also mentioned that Lucy loves to play tricks on the staff and guests of Our House and Lucy's Pub.

"The other day she blew three tap handles right off on me," said Chaykoski. "When we have glasses facing up in the banquet hall, she'll flip them upside down."

"She loves to hang out in the ladies room. When customers are finished washing their hands, and they look in the mirror, she's right behind them, it's her favorite prank."

Chaykoski insists Lucy's pranks are all in good fun. The Our House staff used to hold ghost tours, but for now you can experience Lucy's form of fun by simply hanging out in her pub.

OUR HOUSE RESTAURANT AND BANQUET HALL

Under new management, Our House Restaurant and Banquet Hall are perfect for a night out to dine, or for a wedding, anniversary or any reason to celebrate.

Both Lucy's Pub and Our House have designated specials. Tuesday Steak and Ladies Night feature food and drink specials.

While Happy Hour is every day inside Lucy's Pub.

And just like Lucy's Pub, both divisions of Our House tie back to their roots.

"We went to thrift stores looking for glassware from the 20's, 30's and 40's," said Chaykoski. "We wanted to really stick with the theme."

NIGHT AND DAY

Vic's Restaurant has been drawing generations to its Bradley Beach location since the 1940s. Keeping everything simple and homemade, customers can enjoy their favorite meal without any variations.

FAMILY HISTORY

Vittorio "Vic" Giunco and his wife, Carmella, immigrated from Italy in 1910.

Starting with many small businesses — Vic even owned a speakeasy during Prohibition — he eventually came around to the idea of owning a bar.

Once the ban was lifted, Vic's Tap Room opened in the 1930's in the center of Bradley Beach.

Vic later acquired a larger piece of property, where the Vic's Restaurant we all know and love now presides.

Still managed by family — current fourth-generation family members — Vic's will always be the culinary home away from home for many customers near and far.

"We have pictures when you first walk in," said General Manager Travis Semblewski, a fourth-generation family member. "You can see Vic and his family, along with the first liquor license from Vic's Tap Room."

TRADITION

From the front end of Vic's to the back of the house, everything has been the same for 70 years.

"We are very consistent," said Semblewski. "The guy who makes all the sauces has been here for 40 years. The 'newbie' here is one of our chefs and he's been here for 20 [years]."

The kitchen is the domain of four main chefs, who instill the same flavor in every dish, no matter what day of the week.

Vic's not only has the same staff, but the menu has rarely changed since the eatery opened its doors in 1947.

"That's why I feel people love coming here, that sense of familiarity," added Semblewski.

He also shared that people dining at Vic's usually stick with their favorite dish.

"I meet people who find out I work at Vic's and tell me our Lasagna is 'their thing,'" he said.

And, the community around Vic's is stronger than ever.

Long time regular Ed Malkin has been passing by 'hundreds of pizza places,' since the 1950's on his way to eat at Vic's.

"It's worth the trip," said Malkin. "And it's always the same, it's the spot to be."

70TH ANNIVERSARY

On March 17, Vic's doors will officially have been open for 70 years.

Keeping the celebration low key, Vic's is hanging banners, putting out special placemats and, of course, selling T-shirts.

"I've seen people come have dinner here wearing a shirt from our 50th [anniversary] celebration," said Semblewski.

"We don't want to do anything big. It's a Friday night, we don't want to create a longer wait for people."

Join in the 70th anniversary celebration of this iconic Italian restaurant, and for special announcements about the anniversary T-shirts and more, follow the Facebook page: Vics Italian Restaurant.

FOOD & FRIENDS

inside HARPOON WILLY'S

BY LARISSA FORESE

Harpoon Willy's is a Jersey Shore institution, bringing strangers together as friends over a drink and a great meal.

HARPOON'S HISTORY

The old-fashioned building that houses one of the most popular local restaurants in the area, was built circa 1792, according to Wall Township tax records.

The site served as the last coach stop before crossing over the Lower Manasquan River Bridge.

With this rich history, Harpoon Willy's retains some of the original brickwork and beams that are still apart of the foundation.

Today, Harpoon Willy's is one of the more popular watering holes for locals and visitors alike.

FRIENDLY FACES

Walking into the restaurant and bar is more than just a dining experience. Chances are, sitting at the bar you either know someone, or will get to know someone.

"It's a very local and friendly bar," said Manager Holly Lambert. "You can come here by yourself and create a friendship with the person next to you."

Longstanding friendships brought together by Harpoon Willy's are common.

"It's just a warm place to be," added Lambert."

FAVORITE MENU

Chances are if you have eaten at Harpoon Willy's you have a favorite menu item and tend to stick with it.

The burgers seem to take the bill when it comes to top meals on the menu, along with the pork chops and the seared sesame crusted tuna.

HALF MOON POINT

Soon-to-be sister restaurant of Harpoon Willy's, Half Moon Point, in Point Pleasant Borough, will have a similar menu to the Manasquan/Wall restaurant.

According to Lambert, who will be the general manager of the Point Borough tavern, the menu will touch on the cuisine of Harpoon Willy's but don't expect an exact replica of the menu.

"We are going with the same concept," said Lambert. "We want to cater to the neighborhood, and carry the same local concept from Harpoon Willy's to Point Pleasant."

Half Moon Point will also host a similar rotation when it comes to craft beers, and Lambert insists the wine specials will be no less than excellent.

As for an opening date, it is still up in the air, but hopes are high for the new restaurant to open it's doors fairly soon.

BARTENDER PROFILE

Creative pours from Clancy's Braucht

Clancy's Tavern, in Neptune, hosts all-around bartender Anastasia Braucht. Making her way from loyal customer to a favorite bartender, Braucht has created a loyal customer base of her own.

BEHIND THE BAR

Braucht started bartending by following her family tree.

“My mom was a bartender, cook and waitress,” said Braucht. “So I’ve been in the restaurant business since I was a kid.”

From Clancy's regular to house bartender, Braucht has built a strong rapport with her customers.

Her stint at the Irish tavern started with a job opening in the bartender slot.

“They needed a bartender, and I was happy to join,” added Braucht.

Creating different drinks and talking to Clancy's customers, Braucht uses her personality to benefit the mixologist slot.

“I love our regulars,” said Braucht. “It’s like ‘Cheers’ here.”

DRINK OF THE MOMENT

Staying in the corner of the Irish, Braucht chose to highlight The Knot Irish whiskey.

“The Knotty Irishman,” a Braucht creation, takes The Knot whiskey, adds fresh basil and a splash of lemon simple.

“We’re a beer-and-shot type of bar,” said Braucht. “We don’t really have signature drinks, so I’m allowed to be creative when it comes to drinks.”
